CRABAPPLE ROOTSTOCK

Ornamental crabapples are truly trouble free garden trees when grown on RightRoot™ crabapple rootstock. Proven to be the best all-around performer in our multi-year trials, this time-tested clonal understock virtually eliminates suckering.

In addition to having the lowest number of basal suckers in our tests, trees grown on RightRoot™ understocks have better anchorage and vigorous growth rate. Additional reasons to choose this improved understock include:

- Extremely cold hardy
- Growth rate is close to domestic
- Produces a faster growing tree than EMLA 111
- Resists collar rot and crown gall
- Does not develop burr knot
- Symmetrical root structure is a good balance of fibrous and structural roots
- Adapts well to various soils, including wet or dry sites
