

Homegrown fruits promote healthy lifestyle

There's nothing much fresher and more healthy than a big basket of homegrown fruit. That's why we partner with Dave Wilson Nursery to bring you the finest quality and assortment of fruit trees for your garden center and landscape customers. In early spring, we establish a wide assortment of Wilson's budded, field-grown bare root fruit trees in #7 containers. Small enough to be portable and affordable, these trees are big enough to begin producing fruit soon after they are planted. They are the perfect size for garden centers sales.

Dapple Dandy Pluot®

The large, colorful, firm fruits of this interspecific hybrid of plum and apricot offer spicy, plum-apricot flavor. Its distinctive skin color is pale green to yellow with red mottling. Take a bite to discover creamy pink, delicious flesh inside.

Sold in stores as "Dinosaur Egg®", the fruits delight kids and adults alike. In the landscape, the small, spreading tree is an attractive ornamental and very productive. Ripening late midseason, its pollinizers include Flavor King Pluot® and the flavorful classic, Santa Rosa Plum. Zone 5-9.
