

Homegrown fruits promote healthy lifestyle

There's nothing much fresher and more healthy than a big basket of homegrown fruit. That's why we partner with Dave Wilson Nursery to bring you the finest quality and assortment of fruit trees for your garden center and landscape customers. In early spring, we establish a wide assortment of Wilson's budded, field-grown bare root fruit trees in #7 containers. Small enough to be portable and affordable, these trees are big enough to begin producing fruit soon after they are planted. They are the perfect size for garden centers sales.

Pix Zee Peach

This small tree delivers bumper crops of large, firm, flavorful, freestone peaches that ripen early-midseason to midseason. A vigorous grower that reaches a mature height of about six feet, its compact size is perfect for container or courtyard culture. Chilling requirement of this self-fruitful, red-blushed, yellow-orange peach is 400 hours or less. Performs best in USDA Zones 5-9.
