Spring is bustin' out all over

Locally, Cornelian Cherry Dogwoods and flowering plums are in full bloom. Red maple branches sport subtle clouds of maroon-red blooms as pink buds swell on the early-blooming ornamental cherries. Shipping season is in full swing, with reefer trucks lined up, waiting to be directed to open bays on our loading docks.

Columnar trees lining the driveway to our main loading dock are a perfect fit for this heavily traveled route. Towering to the left of the idling trucks are fastigate trees whose upswept branches stay clear of the tall trailers without the need for pruning: Crimson Spire™, Streetspire® and Skinny Genes® Oaks, and the super-slender Mountain Sentinel® Quaking Aspen. An autumn view, sans trucks, demonstrates what stately and handsome roadside attractions they are. All are currently available.
