

Drone flyover highlights hydrangeas

Sales meetings tend to drone on, but our fall sales meeting did so in a good way. Thanks to our new drone, we can share moments from a walking tour of our container yard that took place during our fall sales meeting. Impressive on foot, the 80-acre container division is downright beautiful from the air. Visit our YouTube channel at <http://jfss.co/sa092917vid> to enjoy a bird's-eye view of verdant blocks of Redpointe® and other maples, Royal Raindrops® Crabapples, a variety of fruit trees and a block of Limelight® Hydrangea trees bursting with a fall flush of greenish-white blooms.

From the air or at eye level, where the densely branched, heavily flowering head can be admired, our tree-form hydrangeas are impressive. We offer three Proven Winners® cultivars as small trees that are a perfect fit for containers, courtyards and space-challenged landscapes. Our sales team admires a #10 Limelight® Hydrangea that was pulled from the block.
